WEST BERLIN PAPERS CLAIM

Execution of Eichmann Not Final Atonement

BONN (Reuters)—West German and West Berlin newspapers today carried editorials stressing that Adolf Eichmann's execution was not the closing chapter in the post-war reckoning for Nazi crimes.

News of Eichmann's hanging in Israel Thursday night reached West Germany too late for the country's morning papers, but evening papers Friday headlined the story and it was carried by most morning papers today as a secondary front-page dispatch.

Editorially, many papers agreed that Eichmann's death represented a single triumph of justice over Nazism, rather than a final atonement for the wartime slaughter inflicted by Hitler's regime.

The Frankfurter Rundschau says "already now one can hear voices saying 'the Nazi regime... we do not have anything to do with them. That was Eichmann and he hanged for it'."

The Essen Neue Rheinzeitung brought to the world by Eichmann and his ilk "cannot be washed out by the death of this single person."

GUILT REMAINS

Frankfurter Allgemeine says the "guilt" of a system that gave Eichmann power to murder "has not been done with."

The mass-circulation Frankfurt Adenpost says Eichmann's execution could not atone for the death of 6,000,000 Jews killed by the Nazis.

The West Berlin der Telegraf says the execution was "just over the darkest symbol for murderous racial hatred and for blind fanaticism connected with the German people."

Der Tagesspiegel of West Berlin says there could be "no human atonement for crimes which surpassed the limits of humanity."

Ex-MP On Bribery Charge Intends To Run Again

HAWKESBURY, Ont. (CP)—Raymond Bruneau, former member of Parliament awaiting judgment on a charge of accepting a $10,000 bribe while in office, took out nomination papers here today declaring his intention to stand as an Independent Liberal in the June 18 federal election.

The move came only hours after county court Judge Frank Costello reserved decision in Ottawa Friday in the trial of the 44-year-old former Liberal MP who represented Glengarry- Prescott from 1949 to 1957.

Mr. Bruneau has until Monday to file his nomination papers bearing the names of 35 sponsors.

The former MP made the decision to try for his former House of Commons seat after consulting with Chief Electoral Officer Nelson Castonguay who said there is nothing to prevent Mr. Bruneau from seeking election.

Mr. Bruneau was charged with accepting a bribe following a complaint by Abbe Bergeron of Hawkesbury alleging that he had given the MP $10,000 in 1956 to facilitate sale of the site of his Hawkesbury garage and to assure himself of a permanent civil service job.

In his trial, Mr. Bruneau contended that the money was a bribe but a loan and that he had undertaken to pay it back.

Closer Trade With US Asked By Bonner

VANCOUVER (CP)—Trade Minister Bonner said Friday night there must be closer trade relations with the United States.

"We can give up the vast rate of expansion that Canada has enjoyed if we exclude American capital," he said at a Social Credit meeting in support of three federal election candidates.

"Great Britain had a mortgage on everything in the U.S. until the First World War, then it went the other way. Canada's turn is just coming."

He criticized the Progressive Conservative party for not ratifying Columbia River treaty before dissolving parliament.

MARINE SAFETY

Mother Gets Jail Term

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Lilian Frattantonio must serve at least 30 days in jail for secretly feeding her two "Sleeping Beauty" daughters barbiturates which sent them into near-death coma two years ago.

The punishment for mistreating her daughters, Venita, now 7, and Bernadette, now 5, was handed out against the 30-year-old mother Friday by juvenile court Judge Albert A. Woldman.

The 30 days will be served on Saturdays and Sundays, starting a week from today, the judge said.

SOUTH HAMPTON, England (AP)—The 20,148-ton Union Castle liner Camarvon Cas ship completed its last voyage on Friday.

Macmillan in Paris For Two Big Talks

Long Missing Hockey Star May Be Found at Wreck

COCHRANE, Ont. (CP)—An attempt to discover the fate of a missing hockey star and his dentist friend resumed north of here today after a 10-year lapse.

A helicopter of the Ontario lands and forests department skimmed the bushland 40 miles north of Cochrane, trying to relocate plane wreckage spotted by the pilot early Friday.

Pilot Gary Fields saw a heap of gleaming metal in the bush. His report caused speculation that the wreckage might contain the remains of Bill Barilko, former star of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, and Timmins dentist Dr. Henry Hudson.

They were lost on a fishing trip flight in August, 1951, and 17 RCAF planes searched for three weeks without success.

Fields took off early today with two forest rangers in an attempt to find the wreckage again.

They reported at noon that they believed they were searching in the right spot but had not located the wreckage. Overcast skies reduced visibility and a 30-mile-an-hour wind made flying difficult.

Only two slim threads of evidence connected the wreckage with the long-missing pair:

It lay in the direct line of flight that would have been taken by Dr. Hudson's seaplane when he and Barilko disappeared in August, 1951, while returning from a James Bay fishing trip to Timmins, 45 air miles south of here.

No other aircraft were known to have crashed in the immediate area.

Ted Hall, district forester here, said the low-flying helicopter spotted the wreck shingling in the bush while on a routine patrol. No attempt was made to land because its crew first believed it was the site of a previously-known crash.

A recheck when the helicopter returned to its base disclosed no known crashes in the area.

Mr. Hall said a seaplane's pontoon was identified during the sighting.

Fulton Attacks Pearson On Policies, Promises

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton has charged that the Liberal party is going to the country June 18 with "a platform of confusion."

Mr. Fulton gave over much of a Friday night speech in this, his home town, to an attack on the policies and promises of Liberal Leader Pearson and his party.

The minister was welcomed to Kamloops by the skirl of bagpipes and took part in a "pot luck" supper in his honor before addressing a meeting attended by about 250 persons.

The Liberals, he said, were offering extravagant promises and also committing "grand larceny" by stealing many of the programs already implemented by Prime Minister Diefenbaker's Progressive Conservative government. Nowhere was this more true than in the field of agriculture.

He contrasted "four years of action" under Prime Minister Diefenbaker with the previous "twenty-two dreary years of Liberal rule, years in which an arrogant bunch dictated to the people of Canada and trampled the rights of parliament."

the Pickersills—who now tell the people of Canada that they must be returned to power," Mr. Fulton said.

White House Reporter Fired After 21 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jack Romagna, who has taken down the words of four U.S. presidents since 1941, has been fired as official White House stenographer.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, announced Friday that Romagna "has left the employ of the White House" and is being replaced by a Washington stenographic service.

Romagna said he got the word after arriving at the White House in the morning for what he "thought was a life time job."

Romagna, 51, has been using his shorthand since 1941 to take down presidential speeches, press conferences, talks to visiting delegations at the White House and press secretary briefings. He employed a fountain pen to transcribe Franklin D. Roosevelt's wartime speeches and addresses of Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy.

In a sense Romagna yielded to mechanization. The Alderson Reporting Company, his replacement, mainly uses stenographic devices. Salinger said the principal reason behind the change was to acquire the services of more than one reporter for the variety of events that must be transcribed.

There have been signs in recent months of cooling relations between the White House press office and Romagna.

Several weeks ago he transcribed remarks President Kennedy delivered by telephone to a conference of mayors in Miami Beach, Fla., and noted in the heading that the president spoke from the White House swimming pool.

This disturbed several staff members and after an initial distribution of copies of reports, a new supply was prepared, omitting reference to the swimming pool.

Common Market, Berlin Up For Much Discussion

PARIS (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan arrived here today for two days of talks with President de Gaulle.

It is expected Britain's proposed entry into the European Common Market and the Berlin problem will be discussed at length.

The recently modernized chateau, once Madame Pompadour's residence, has not been used previously by de Gaulle to receive foreign statesmen. The chateau, more than 200 years old, is a French show-place.

A political commentator in the newspaper Paris-Jour said de Gaulle would probably tell Macmillan that Britain's entry into the Common Market should mean Britain will "stop being America's agent in Europe."

The commentator said the Common Market countries, including Britain, could remain "strong and faithful allies of the United States."

"But as regards nuclear strength," the commentator said, "let us not leave to them (the Americans) the exclusive power of pressing the terrible button."

De Gaulle resents his exclusion from the atomic club by Britain and the United States despite the fact that France has conducted five successful nuclear tests.

The de Gaulle - Macmillan talks were to be informal. Macmillan was accompanied by his wife, Lady Dorothy Macmillan.

French officials said it was hoped de Gaulle would try to dispel reports in Britain and the U.S. that he wants to block British entry into the Common Market.

On Berlin, the two leaders were expected to "agree to differ."

De Gaulle planned to hold his position that current Soviet-American contracts, to determine if a basis exists for negotiation on Berlin, are valueless under present conditions.

Service Station Man Spots Kidnapped Girl

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE (CP)—Police are investigating a report that nine-year-old Ann Marie Burr, kidnapped in Tacoma, Wash. last year, was sighted here Thursday.

The operator of a service station told police he saw the Burr girl in the station's cafe.

He said a blonde-haired girl accompanied by two women and a man had breakfast in the restaurant, but he did not recognize the girl at the time.

Hours later, he saw a newspaper picture of the Burr girl and it fitted the description of the girl in the restaurant. He called police.

The Burr girl was kidnapped from the bedroom of her parents' Tacoma home last Aug. 31 and has been the object of a search in Canada and the United States ever since.

Authorities have offered a $5,000 reward for the return of the girl to her parents and arrest of her abductors.

The garage operator told police the adults spoke a little too sharply to the girl to be her parents.

She walked up to a candy counter at one point and he asked where she was from. The girl said she was from Tacoma.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police have alerted border points to keep watch for the group.

Scotland Yard Recovers 11 Paintings

LONDON (AP)—Acting on a telephone tip, Scotland Yard today recovered 11 of the 12 paintings and drawings stolen from a London art gallery last weekend.

The pictures, valued at £20,000 ($91,800) were found in a subway station locker in the heart of London.

The lone picture still missing, Scotland Yard reported, is a Degas drawing. The recovered items included works by Matisse, Picasso and Renoir. They were identified by a representative of the Lefevre Gallery in London's Mayfair district, which had reported them stolen.

Forest Fires Total 341

OTTAWA (CP)—A total of 341 fires destroyed or damaged 2,581 acres of Canada's forests in April, the federal forestry department reported today.

The average size of the fires was eight acres. In the corresponding month last year, 322 fires burned 10,850 acres.

Last year was a record year with 9,000,000 acres destroyed by fires.

DIEF'S PLANE NARROWLY MISSES COLLISION AT SUDBURY AIRPORT

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker's chartered plane narrowly averted a collision with a light plane while landing at Sudbury today.

The light plane was on the ground and started to taxi across the runway just after the wheels of the PM's DC-6B had touched down.

Mr. Diefenbaker's plane veered slightly to the starboard but remained on the runway without difficulty.

Capt. Jack Wells of Vancouver, pilot of the prime minister's chartered four-engined plane, told reporters:

"It gave us a scare."

He estimated that the small Cessna plane, piloted by John C. Doble of Cincinnati, was about 50 to 100 feet off his starboard wingtip when his plane went by at about 80 miles an hour.

E. German Border Guards Kill Girl, Abduct Another

BERLIN (AP)—Lured by a friendly voice, two teen-ager West Berlin girls walked into a Communist trap Friday night.

East German border guards kidnapped one, shot the other.

It was the third serious shooting incident along West Berlin's uneasy border in 10 days.

West Berlin police gave this account:

Two two girls, both 17 and identified only as Ursula and Karin, approached the border girl friend is waiting for you."

The two girls walked forward, to a police post.

Germany from the U.S. sector crossing into Communist territory as they approached the barbed wire fence, set back a distance from the actual demarcation line.

When they reached the wire, the East German guards grabbed Karin and dragged her through the fence. As Ursula turned and fled toward the west, the guards opened fire with machine-gun bullets.

Bleeding from a wound in the hip, she managed to reach the border once again and staggered to a police post.

Presumably, the girls intended to wave to or speak to friends in the east sector.

Friendly East German guards often aid such meetings, either actively or at least by turning the other way. This seemed to be the case Friday night.

"Come up to the wire," an East German guard called out to Ursula and Karin. "Your friend is waiting for you."

The two girls walked forward, to a police post.

Rusk Plans European Junket

WASHINGTON (CP) — AP — State Secretary Rusk is planning a trip to Europe late this month to confer with Allied leaders about clearing up some of the policy differences in the Atlantic Alliance.

He is expected definitely to meet with West German Chancellor Adenauer. He may see French President de Gaulle. The trip is in effect an American concession to offset the complaints of these allies that they get less than full U.S. sympathy and that the Kennedy administration appears to be paying more attention to the neutrals and Communists than its friends in Europe.

Rusk also plans to confer with Prime Minister Macmillan but more in the form of a jovial reunion than a question of dealing with frictions.

Rusk disclosed at a press conference Thursday that arrangements for a trip are being worked out. From other sources it was learned that he wants to talk to Adenauer about U.S.-Soviet discussions on a Berlin settlement and about future moves for greater Western European political unity, which the United States strongly supports.

While Rusk played down Allied policy differences over Berlin they remain as a source of irritation in relations among the U.S., West Germany and France.

Whether Rusk sees de Gaulle probably will be determined by progress in his conferences here with French Ambassador Herve Alphand. Rusk and Alphand met for two hours Monday and for 90 minutes Thursday on Paris - Washington policy differences.

The differences include de Gaulle's determination to give France an independent nuclear weapons force and his desire to promote a European grouping of national states with looser U.S. ties.

REPEAT SHOW ON OP TABLE

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Mark Trautman, 13 months, has a sore throat after his hernia operation.

Tracy Fernald, 17 months, has an incision in the groin following his tonsillectomy.

Otherwise both youngsters are recovering nicely at their homes. But each still has to undergo his respective operation.

The baby boys were room mates at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital here Thursday when they were wheeled into surgery within minutes of each other.

When Mark came back, "we looked for his incision," said his mother, Mrs. Mark Trautman, "but there was none."

She asked a doctor why. "He took off like a flash for the operating room," she said.

Too late, Tracy, son of Walter Fernald, had been found to have no hernia and the four-inch incision sutured up before the warning arrived.

The mixup apparently came with a switch of the boys' charts somewhere between their room and the operating table. Hospital officials and the two doctors involved had no comment.

Eichmann's Sons Bitter Over Hanging

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters) — Adolf Eichmann's three elder sons learned bitterly of their father's execution shortly after he was hanged late Thursday night near Tel Aviv, Israel.

No tears were shed by the three brothers but each reacted strongly to the news of the execution.

High-strung Horst burst out "tomorrow I will fly my father's flag at half staff above this house."

Klaus, the eldest, said that the execution "proved once again that money is stronger than law and justice" as far as Judaism is concerned.

Eichmann's second son Dieter asked "why didn't those who were above him" speak in his defence at his trial.

Klaus said "history will judge the crime committed against my father by the Israeli state on May 31, 1962."

"History and the whole of mankind will reassess what is just and what is unjust. Judaism has achieved the impossible and proved once again that money is stronger than law and justice."

Klaus said Israel "needed a propitiatory victim, some evidence, to justify German money paid as compensation" for the mass wartime murder of Jews.

S. Africa Enters 2nd Year With Promising Outlook

LONDON (CP) — South Africa today entered its second year as a republic with its economic position secure, its political outlook stable and its attitude defiant.

British correspondents in Cape Town report there have been few signs of the violence and revolution that many predicted would follow the national government's repressive racial policy.

Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd and his regime seem, if anything, stronger than they were before breaking away from the Commonwealth. The government remains unperturbed by the storm of protest aroused by the sweeping powers of detention proposed in the sabotage bill now passing through parliament.

Verwoerd has, of course, retained the passionate support of the Afrikaner population. But by bringing security and stability, he has also reassured the English-speaking South Africans.

"THINGS IMPROVED" "The end of the world has not come as they half expected," writes Leslie Bellby in the Daily Telegraph. "In fact, things have improved all round."

English-speaking opposition to Verwoerd and the government's increasingly dictatorial measures has weakened after disappointing returns for both the United and Progressive parties at last fall's general elections. Says Bellby:

"His more violent opponents are beginning to feel a sense of futility in fighting the prime minister now that he is constitutionally so secure."

Part of Verwoerd's strength has come from his inflexible determination to impose the apartheid policies in the face of objections from almost the whole outside world.

The Daily Mail's Peter Youngblood says the Afrikaners compared their present attitude with the great trek they made by their ancestors in 1836. They accept the fact they stand alone "with the stubborn courage Afrikaners have always shown in their fight for what they believe in."

WINS RESPECT "This has won Verwoerd a certain drudging respect from some English South Africans worried about the current problems in the Rhodesias, where property values have slumped, and the constant possibility of a

ELECTION ROUNDUP

Dief Asks for Harder Work To Ensure Economic Health

An appeal for harder work by Canadians to ensure the country's future economic health has been voiced by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Higher production and economic expansion, he told a crowded theatre audience in the Northern Ontario mining town of Kirkland Lake Friday night, are needed if Canada is to compete in world markets and continue the extension of social welfare programs.

Earlier in a filmed nationally televised speech he forecast the "lowest level of unemployment and the highest level of employment in our history will be reached by the end of the summer."

The June 8 election campaign trail Friday saw both Mr. Diefenbaker and Liberal Leader Lester Pearson winging their way Eastwards following western Canadian tours.

FEAR JOB LACK

In Port William, Mr. Pearson told TV viewers that unless the country gets moving again many persons, who now have jobs, as well as the unemployed, fear being out of work.

T. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, returned to his home constituency of Regina where he proposed formation of a Canadian youth service for work in underdeveloped countries.

Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson also spent the day in home territory—in Alberta. The weekend program will see all four leaders in Eastern Canada by Sunday night.

Mr. Diefenbaker heads today for Sudbury, Chelmsford and Pembroke, Ont., before a Sunday cabinet meeting in Ottawa.

Mr. Pearson has a speaking engagement in Brockville, tonight, then returns to the capital. Mr. Douglas plans call for campaigning today in his home riding, a Sunday morning airport press conference in Winnipeg and Sunday night in Toronto.

Mr. Thompson was to speak today at Hanna and Drumheller, Alta., and arrive in Montreal Sunday afternoon.

SPEAKS OF FUTURE

Friday, Mr. Diefenbaker flew from Edmonton to Timmins, Ont., and Kirkland Lake. His main theme on the hustings was Canada's economic future.

"Canadians must be prepared to work harder for greater productivity and keep costs in line with those of competitors," he said.

In his television address, Mr. Diefenbaker said the Progressive Conservative party is asking for a new mandate to "push

Philpott Blasts Pugh But Blames The Party

OSOYOOS — Elmore Philpott, Liberal candidate in Okanagan-Boundary let loose a sharp attack on David Pugh, Conservative standard bearer.

Speaking to a public meeting in Osoyoos Legion Hall he said: "Why has Mr. Pugh ducked and dodged all invitations to joint meetings? He and all other candidates were invited by the Chambers of Commerce of Princeton, West Summerland, Osoyoos, Grand Forks — and even his home town of Oliver. Yet in every case the Tory candidate ran away. All the other candidates were willing to come to most or all of the meetings. But Mr. Pugh would not come to a single one of them, even when the sponsors and other candidates offered to let him pick the dates.

"Mr. Pugh is a ready speaker, but he is also an intelligent man. He simply could not come to a free-for-all meeting open to all candidates and defend the record of the Diefenbaker government, for the obvious reason that not even the archangel Gabriel could succeed in such a task.

"Nobodies could successfully defend the five year record of mess and muddle, culminating in the collapse of our dollar to 92.5 cents.

"Yet I feel sure that the people of this riding would have preferred that Mr. Pugh had come to the meetings and taken his medicine like a faithful soldier.

DIDN'T MAKE RESTITUTION SO WILL SERVE JAIL TERM

Stalling on a restitution payment sent a Kelowna youth to jail for three months today.

George Clifford Bonner, one of three Kelowna youths found guilty of breaking into Keefe's Billiards on Ellis Street last February when the safe and a small amount of cash were stolen, appeared before Magistrate D. M. White.

In February, Bonner was given a two years' suspended sentence. He was ordered to pay $75 in restitution and given to March 31 to meet the payment.

On several occasions, according to court, he was given extensions of the deadline until probation officer Lloyd Pisapio brought him before the magistrate on a breach of probation terms.

Oyama PTA Meet Asks Questions

By MRS. D. J. EYLES
(Courier Correspondent)

OYAMA — The 10th annual meeting of the Oyama Parent Teachers Association, which was held in the Elementary School recently, proved to be one of the best attended and certainly the most interesting meeting held in many years.

About 40 parents of the 100 students in the school, came to the gathering armed with questions and proposals which were presented to Mr. Fred Macklin, secretary-treasurer of School District 23 and Mr. Frank Orme, District Superintendent of Schools.

Most parents in attendance seemed to be very unhappy with the way the School Board is treating Oyama and felt that the erection of a temporary portable classroom for the new school was no answer to the overall problem. Toilet facilities were considered inadequate and outdated, and no existing for the staff, the lack of fire escapes and a fire alarm system were causing great concern to many parents, and the present antiquated electrical wiring was considered by many to be unsafe. Considerable indignation was expressed over the condition of the well, which once again has been condemned for drinking purposes, resulting in bucketfuls of water having to be carried to school in order that the children may quench their thirst.

These key questions and many more were discussed by the two speakers, who stated that the Oyama School met all the standards that are required by the Department of Education and although some of them may seem a little primitive they are no worse than those found generally in rural schools.

Mr. Orme stated that the portable classroom would be ideal for the situation in Oyama which at present has no room for grade 7 students, it would be a self contained unit and similar to classrooms in use in many parts of the Province. With the erection of the new school the present basement classroom would be converted into a first-aid room and principals office, a long overdue necessity.

Regarding the future of the Oyama School, Mr. Macklin said that he realized that a solution needed to be spent on quite a few improvements, including the grounds which may get some care this year, but the School Board was loathe to spend money on a building which some time in the future may have to be replaced. The present condition of the building indicated it will last a few years yet. The board would however, consider purchasing a new school site at anytime if a suitable three acre property can be located and if it could be acquired for a reasonable price.

Elected as PTA officers at the start of the new school year were: President, Mrs. Paul Pipke; vice-president, Mrs. James Janz; secretary, Mrs. Jennie Gatzke; treasurer, Mrs. Gordon Allingham. Executive committee will consist of Mrs. Fred Hayward, Mrs. Dick Young, Mrs. Arnold Trehwitt, Mrs. Bernard Gray and Mrs. Doug Elliott.

The attendance prize of the month went to Miss Cleet's grade two room. The meeting concluded following presentations by chairman Allan Clardie, to Mrs. Demosky and Miss Cleet who will be leaving the district following the year's teaching.

The ladies of the PTA served refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting.

Deserving Students Get Rutland High Awards

EARNS DEGREE

Reuben Tataryn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tataryn, RRS, Kelowna, will graduate tomorrow from Walla Walla College, College Place, Washington, receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in zoology. Tataryn completed his high school education locally at Okanagan Academy. He has been accepted at the Western Reserve University, Dental School, Cleveland, Ohio, and plans to enter the university in September. At the Southeastern Washington College ceremonies June 3, Dr. P. W. Christian, president, will confer 138 bachelor's degrees and seven master's degrees.

No Lighting Vote Fails

WINFIELD — Street lighting again failed to get the required two-thirds majority at a special meeting of the landowners of the Winfield Fire Protection District held this week in the Winfield Memorial Hall.

The resolution for street lighting was sponsored by the Winfield Farmer's Institute and was introduced by its president, Harold Marshall, Alex Green, who seconded the resolution, spoke in its behalf.

There were 186 ballots cast, 116 in favor and 70 against, giving a 62.3 per cent majority. Only eight more votes in favor would have made lighting a reality in Winfield.

In August, 1961, when the last vote was taken, 55.8 per cent voted in favor.

Chairman Mel Kawano announced the result of the voting would be sent to the Comptroller of Water Rights. He also said the meeting that those in favor would have to petition the trustees before another street lighting proposal would be considered.

Weather Spotty Is The Weekend Prediction

It doesn't look like one of those fun in the sun weekends according to today's weather forecast.

Summer spirits may be slightly dampened by scattered showers today and Sunday and temperatures will hover in the low 70's.

A gray blanket of cloud which hung over the city this morning is expected to persist through Sunday.

A storm last night on the coast is heading this way leaving cloud and rain along the ridges in its path as it continues across the province.

The same weather persists in the north country where clouds and showers combined with 20 mph winds are dampening things down. Temperatures at Quesnel and Prince George are predicted at 40 and 65 and at Smithers, 40 and 62.

Friday was "Awards Day" at Rutland Junior - Senior High. Academic, athletic and service awards were presented to scholars whose achievements had earned them this recognition.

William Orobka Rites Today

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. today following the death this week of William Orobka, aged 68 in hospital.

Rev. E. H. Birdsall officiated at the Chapel of Remembrance. Interment was in Kelowna cemetery.

Born in Austria where he attended university, Mr. Orobka came to Canada in 1911 to Saskatchewan where he and Mrs. Orobka were married in Saskatchewan in 1913. They moved to Regina where Mr. Orobka was yard foreman with the Canadian National Railway until retiring and coming to live in Kelowna in 1955. He was Past Master of the Masonic Order AF and AM King Hiram Lodge No. 104 in Regina, secretary-treasurer of the Railway Union, Brotherhood of Maintenance of W. E. No. 156m Regina and a member of First United Church of Kelowna.

Pallbearers included Allan Barnes, Joseph Yochim, Harry Robinson, Alf Tutler, William Gordon and T. W. Roth. Honorary pallbearers were Fred Marriage, William Fray, Ken Sheppard, D. M. Woodhams and Syd Ward.

Day's funeral services were held at the funeral home.

A mysterious fire, believed to be a scorched pews and prayer books at the Kelowna Mennonite Mission.

Kelowna Tourist Bureau members voted financial support for the manning of a tourist information booth at the northeastern approach to the city.

Mrs. V. Peters was elected president of the Rymner PTA. I.C. Tree Fruits sent some tips out to cherry farmers to assist them in a successful year, particularly in the eastern markets.

Valley shippers and packing operators attended a meeting here to discuss shoring and bracing methods.

On the hustings, O. L. Jones, NDP candidate for the local riding said his party pledges "full employment."

Liberal candidate Elmore Philpott spoke at an evening coffee party in Westbank.

The weather hasn't hurt crops according to a fruit and vegetable report from the Department of Agriculture.

NICE PLACE TO SPEND A DAY

Kelowna's City Park, one of the most beautiful in the B.C. Interior, is coming into full summer use as a recreational facility for young and old. Picnics, tennis, swimming, diving, lawn checkers, baseball, football, photography, nature studies and just plain relaxation are among a few of the things enjoyed by thousands at this spot whose lawns, flowers, trees and shrubs are given top notch care by the city horticulturists.

Socred Leader Charges Political Patronage

Robert Thompson, national Social Credit leader, said in Penitence this week, all judicial appointments in Canada now are "made by politics" and reiterated that Social Credit would change this.

Speaking to reporters at Penitence airport, Mr. Thompson defended a statement he made recently in Brandon, Man., to the effect that if the Social Credit party is elected "political bias" in judicial appointments will be ended.

"I merely suggested that a non-partisan committee be set up to make these appointments," he said.

Asked who would make up such a committee, the party leader said policy on this matter has not completely been spelled out. But he thought the members would come from bar associations, labor, government, the judiciary itself and other major organizations.

LAYS BLAME
He blamed the recent stock market drop on lack of confidence in business and investment on the whole financial structure of the country, the European Common Market, which he said has caused a loss of Canadian capital, and the continued deficit financing of the Canadian government. Though he did not directly say whether his party favored severance of trade with Red China, he reiterated that Canada should trade with friends rather than with an enemy who is "dedicated to the destruction of everything this country stands for."

"Russia is doing what we should be doing, trading her wheat to Japan," he added.

THE DOLLAR
During the course of the conference, he was asked about the devaluation of the Canadian dollar. He explained that since it was pegged at 92½ cents we would have to accept it as such.

However, he pointed out that, although, the dollar devaluation would benefit our exports, as well as our tourist industry, we are basically an importing nation, and the current devaluation would add 10 per cent to our tariff costs, giving us an increased cost of living. By increasing the cost of living, we will only lower our standard of living.

When asked about the reason for the dollar devaluation, Mr. Thompson stated that it was a "desperate government trying to meet a desperate situation."

Yacht Club At Westbank Official Soon

WESTBANK — Final arrangements for registration under the Societies Act were made by the Westbank Yacht Club at this week's meeting, when it was also decided to hold a membership drive this month.

August 1 has been set as the deadline for charter members, with a fee of $10 applicable to single members and to husband and wife. Those interested are reminded that membership is not confined to boat-owners, and that all interested in this new club are welcome to join. With 15 forming the nucleus of the organization, it is hoped to have a substantial increase in members before June has passed.

Next meeting will be held following incorporation, when a Commodore and other officers will be appointed.

Presently carrying on with Peter Romanchuk as secretary-treasurer, is the committee appointed at the preliminary meeting, consisting of the following: Roy Owen, Bert Longley, Nelson Reece, J. A. Brown and J. H. Blackey.

MRS. L. H. JONES

Will Hear U.S. Nurse

Guest speaker for the Okanagan Dorcas Federation convention on June 7 will be Mrs. Lucille H. Jones, R.N., B.S.M., from Walla Walla College, Washington.

Mrs. Jones will be accompanied by her husband Carl Jones who is professor of Chemistry at the College.

Mrs. Jones has been instructor in nursing education in several hospitals in the United States, and also in the Philippine Union College, Near Manila, P. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones will attend the Vancouver Island Federation First, then the Fraser Valley one before coming here. On June 9 they will be in Prince George, while filling her speaking engagements they will see much of scenic British Columbia.

Richter Speaks Here Monday

The Honourable Frank Richter, Minister of Agriculture, and P. D. "Jack" Shaw, Social Credit candidate for Okanagan-Boundary, will speak at an informal picnic tea at Capitol Motor Inn on Monday, June 4, at 3 p.m. Mr. Richter will answer questions and both he and Mr. Shaw will discuss various aspects of the coming election.

Later on Monday, Mr. Richter and Mr. Shaw will speak at a public meeting in Rutland High School at 8:15 p.m.

YACHT CLUB BOAT TALK

Water skiing is becoming an ever more popular sport, especially since the advent of the powerful outboard motor.

Lake Okanagan of course, is one of British Columbia's principal water skiing areas and, although there are no written records available, more than a few accidents occur during a summer, only the more serious ones receiving publicity.

What are the safety rules for water skiing?

Well, besides the usual ones, such as safety equipment, two people in the tow boat, and the avoiding of swimmers and normal water hazards, there are a few tips well worth the water skier's attention.

The person operating the boat should be utterly capable. Competent boat handlers can enhance the skill of the skier, just as errors in judgment on the part of the driver can be damaging.

The driver is a vital factor to the skier's success. He should be at all time alert to hazards, obedience to signals from the skier and he should refrain from "horse play".

Driver and skier should understand each other's signals.

The driver should continue to move in a straight line until the skier comes up out of the water and the ski line should be taut until the skier is ready to go. At this point use enough throttle to pull him up quickly and safely.

The driver should not change course without signalling to the skier. He should avoid abrupt manoeuvres of any kind and should swing wide on turns, especially when the skier is on the right.

The driver should be sitting in the seat, not on the gunwale. Seats are put into a boat to sit on.

Drivers should make sure boat and skier are clear of swimmers, other boats, canoes, sailboats and skin divers and he should avoid passing too close to private or public piers or landings. This includes such places as the Aquatic, Yacht Club, public beaches and Okanagan Bridge.

Never tow a skier faster than he wants to go and never keep him out after he is exhausted. This is dangerous and detracts from the enjoyment of skiing.

The rules are simple, for they are actually an attitude.

We dislike hearing that water skiers are show-offs and smart alecs, for we know it isn't true. But like other spectacular sports, water skiing can be dangerous and it looks dangerous.

Why alarm someone who doesn't appreciate it? You prove nothing.

There's so much fun to be had by those who follow the rules that those who don't must be taken where they can only watch—on land.

Church Must Stir Public Against Juvenile Crime

A magazine article states, "For every 25 juveniles today there is one juvenile arrest. While the number of 10-17 year olds increased 25 per cent between 1955-60, arrests among them increased 48 per cent." Canada as well as United States is facing a very serious crisis in the continuous rise in juvenile crime. The lowering of moral principles and the general decadence of public life are having a far reaching effect upon this nation. As crime increases there comes the need for more law enforcement officers and more institutions for the incarceration of prisoners and all this means more money from the taxpayers. Haney Correctional Institution cost the public $5,000,000; it costs Canadian taxpayers $30,000,000 a year to maintain our overcrowded prisoners. We have reached the point where we can no longer afford to allow crime to increase at the present rate. This internal danger is of far greater menace than Communism.

With the continued rise in juvenile crime we are reaping the whirlwind in tougher and rougher adult criminals. So the spiral of crime mounts, the spiral of cost grows, and the spiral of moral profligacy multiplies.

The unfortunate part of this sorry and sad plight is that the public is generally indifferent and complacent and even unaware of the problems facing our courts and law enforcement officers. We are going along placidly, with our heads buried deep in the sand of ease and comfort in affluent living, saying "this can't happen to me."

As in the days of Noah, we are merrily plunging headlong to moral and spiritual destruction, unheeding the voice of God or the cry of the conscience.

One of the tough problems which modern youth has to cope with is the unhealthy and unclean atmosphere in which he must live, move and have his being. Certainly modern youth has more clubs and organizations to join than ever before, nevertheless they have not provided the answer. As one writer has put it so well, "The rapid increase of youthful offenders reflects a lowering standard in adult society. Impressionable youth becomes victim to the fashion of dissolute living manifested in excessive drinking, gambling, racketeering, bribery, violence, dishonesty in business and public life, purient entertainment and other evils daily published."

In the struggle against the increase in juvenile crime, the home is the bulwark, the fortress for righteousness and right living. There is simply no substitute for a well-ordered family life where God is honored and life is respected. Where family life is disrupted with the discord of drunkenness, divorce, desertion and irresponsibility, then this is often reflected in the life of the children. God's Word enjoins the parents to their responsibility in the upbringing of their children. This injunction, "to bring them (children) up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord," cannot and must not be taken lightly. A famous child psychologist is old fashioned enough to write, "A child who has not been taught the meaning of the word, 'No' by the time he is four years old has spent four years in the academic school of crime." The job of parenthood is a serious one. The respect developed in the home atmosphere will be carried forward into other areas of life.

In our fight against juvenile crime we must deny ourselves, we must discipline ourselves and we must prepare ourselves. The most powerful weapon for victorious living is to be found in the Christian faith, where God becomes a partner with us in our daily living. The establishment of proper moral and spiritual climate is the task of the parents and the Church. Delinquency cannot be curbed unless there is this basic establishment of Christian ideals and principles, both in word and deed.

The Church instead of becoming smug and complacent with the things as they are must stir the public conscience to restrict or remove those things which are ruining the minds and the morals of our youth and to promote those things which bring them happiness and spiritual health to our budding Canadians. Furthermore, the Church must speak clearly and with deep concern the necessity of re-establishing the family unit in its rightful place in the social structure of society. A nation is as good as its family units.

There is an answer to this problem of juvenile crime, but it will require courage, effort, wisdom, skill, and leadership under the Lordship of Christ. — Rev. K. Iwayoshi, First Baptist Church, Kelowna.

OFF WE GO INTO THE WILD BLUE YONDER

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Bell's Palsy Paralysis

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have Bell's Palsy. It started with a mild earache and watery right eye, then a sort of numbness across my cheek bone. Why do the tears from my eye burn so much? How long does Bell's Palsy last, and what can I do for it?—M.J.

Your description is quite typical of the way Bell's Palsy sometimes starts. Some cases, however, are much more painful than others. Why do the numbness is preferable.

The ailment is the result of a disorder of the facial nerve, and it can be caused by infection, injury, from surgery in the mastoid area, a generalized illness such as diabetes, and (some believe) from such things as cold, since many cases seem to follow exposure to a cold draft. I doubt whether cold does it alone, but it may trigger a case that is ready to start anyway.

Bell's Palsy usually comes on suddenly but doesn't always depart the same way. I regret to say. Duration varies: Some cases clear up in a matter of weeks, some take many months or more.

Recovery may be hastened by warm applications to the face, Vitamin B, massage, electrical stimulation and other forms of physiotherapy that your doctor may prescribe.

Because the eyelid (this ailment comes on one side of the face usually) does not close completely, the eye tends to dry, and the stinging is the result of the body trying to protect it by a flow of tears. It is important to protect the eye, especially at night. Your doctor may suggest moistening the eye with a bland oil, and often a patch is worn to protect the eye from injury.

In particularly painful cases that go on and on, specialists sometimes paralyze the nerve temporarily by injections, which sometimes is referred to as "exchanging the pain for numbness."

In extreme cases, sometimes the nerve is cut for the same purpose, but this leaves permanent numbness and is a last resort rather than an early one.

Be thankful that your case is not one of the extremely painful ones, and keep after the measures that speed recovery.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes brown spots on the skin when in the 60's? I also get red spots, as big as pin heads. People ask me what they are and I can't tell them. Is it lack of vitamins?—MRS. R.J.

Both spots are common enough, and harmless—and if you look carefully, you'll see that others your age have the same things. Brown spots of pigment accumulate in the skin, especially among people who have been much exposed to sun and wind. Pin-head red spots are accumulations of tiny capillaries, or very small blood vessels. They are just skin blemishes that don't really matter. No, they aren't caused by a lack of vitamins.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have one of those wonderful but stubborn husbands who insists on me and the children seeing the doctor at the slightest pain.

For three months he has had a cold that has gotten progressively worse—we go through this every winter. The new problem is that he has been perspiring profusely.

Please tell me what to do. My husband keeps asking me what's wrong with him.—MRS. J.D.

Your husband ought to see his doctor and have a chest X-ray. Tuberculosis, although gradually being suppressed, is not an obsolete disease. A lingering cough from a "winter cold" can be a sign of lung cancer or some lesser disease.

It is ridiculous about a man can be so solicitous about his family and yet refuse to go to the doctor himself. He should, and soon, for his family's sake.

UNITED KINGDOM REPORT

Dockers' Wages Up Nurses Underpaid

By MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Enx.)
Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — Dock workers, under threat of a national strike, have received pay concessions of between eight and nine per cent, because they are employed by private industry. But the greatly underpaid nurses, because they are employees of the state, have to be satisfied with a meagre 2½ per cent increase, because it is against their professional principle to go on strike. The result of this combination of circumstances has been to set off a new round of attacks on the government.

Public sympathy is 100 per cent on the side of the nurses. It was not nearly so emphatic in favor of the demands of the dockworkers. But the public recognizes, first, that the nurses are badly underpaid, second, that they are being victimized because in their case the government can stick to its pay restraint policy and refuse more than the 2½ per cent offered, and thirdly, that the nurses have too great a sense of obligation to their patients to go on strike.

TORIES AROUSED

In their fight for recognition for higher wages, the nurses have the support of many Tory members of parliament. Some of them spoke out against the government's policy when the matter was debated in the Commons. Some abstained from voting in the subsequent division. But Enoch Powell, minister of health, while inviting the nurses to resume negotiations on wages, held out no hopes for any more in the way of an immediate increase than the 2½ per cent fixed by the government. All he could suggest was that if the negotiations produced a higher figure, it would be

LOOKING BACK

Horse and Buggy Replaced by Car

"OLD STAGER"

Fifty years ago the city of Kelowna, and district, was in the throes of a transition between the horse and buggy and the automobile eras. The pages of the Courier carried advertisements, and news columns had stories, that exemplified the fact.

An advertisement by Megaw's Garage, Vernon, was carried in all the April and May issues, with a large illustration of a 1912 vintage Cadillac, which boasted such innovations as automatic starting, lighting and ignition! The gas tank capacity had been increased to 20 gallons, and that of phantoms and roadsters to 18. (It was a long way between gas stations in those days!)

No prices were quoted, but booklets with quotations and full information could be obtained by writing to the firm.

Ah! Yes! There was a gasoline gauge on the dash, the ad said, making an emergency tank unnecessary, and service brake had a ratchet, to lock it if desired.

Immediately above the Megaw ad, was a much, much smaller one inserted by the "Kelowna Livery and Feed Stables," advertising for hire "good horses, good rigs, careful drivers," but there was a bit on the defensive in their announcement that they were "Still doing business at the old stand."

The proprietors — the Collett Bros. — could hardly be happy about the increasing number of the new-fangled machines starting to clutter up the roads, filling the air with seemingly clatter and exhaust fumes, and scaring good horses!

Vernon had no monopoly on auto agencies, Kelowna had its own firm of "Coats, Edwards and Gowen," who carried a large advertisement picturing the latest Model T Ford. The price was quoted at $850 f.o.b. Walkerville, Ontario, and this car, they boasted, had "just won the Dunlop race, Winnipeg to Boisbevin, 243 miles through mud and rain." The output of this hardy forerunner of the modern "Fairlanses" etc., was forecast at the unheard of figure of 75,000 cars for 1912!

It was described as a five passenger, four (4) door car, with extension top, automatic brass windshield speedometer, two six-cylinder lamps, and three oil lamps, generator and horn. There was a full kit of tools, too (a very much needed accessory in those days).

Messrs Coats, Edwards and Gowen were not in the car business wholeheartedly, as yet, however. They were edging in, as it were. They were still in the buggy and farm implement business too. Another large ad of theirs in the same issue shows a snappy looking buggy with a folding top (the "convertible" of the horse and buggy era!). They carried a full line of delivery wagons, demerats, surreys and phaetons too, and light and heavy harness, and—Oh yes! They sold "White Rose" gasoline. They were, in fact, right in the transition itself, embodying both eras within the ramifications of their business, they had a foot in both camps, as it were. Their auto sales were not confined to Ford's, for an item in "Local and Personal" reads—"Coats, Edwards and Gowen received a shipment of three fine Tudor cars on Saturday, which they have disposed of already." (The Courier, a weekly then, published Thursdays), so it took them four business days to move them). The item continues "There were two four-cylinder cars and one six-cylinder, the first six-cylinder car to arrive in Kelowna, and it was bought by S. T. Elliott." (Merchants knew how to plug news items with free advertising in those days too!)

Driving a horse and buggy in those times was a really hazardous business for the spirited horse driver by the younger set were liable to shy and take fright suddenly, even at a place of paper blowing across the road, and when they met an auto, anything could happen. The occupants often found themselves in the ditch, and the driverless horse galloping for home, with or without the buggy!

The Courier carried a typical story in one of its April 1912 issues, when they described a runaway that occurred on Bernard Ave., about half a mile from the city business section, when a horse, driven by D. H. Rattenbury, became frightened by the approach of "the noisy motor truck familiar to all local citizens," had bolted to the side of the road into some trees, throwing out Mr. Rattenbury and two lady passengers, Miss Martin and Miss Watt. Fortunately only bruises and severe shock resulted, but the buggy shaft was broken and some harness broken. The horse was recaptured in Glenmore, and shortly afterwards brought back "meek and crest-fallen," says the reporter, who concludes with the comment that this was a "shocking illustration of the passing of the horse!"

On May 6, 1912, Police Constable Toth gave a report to the city council stating that there were 35 automobiles in the city and district, "from two-cylinder runabouts to 'modern' six-cylinder, seven-passenger touring cars." He also averred that "the provincial laws re excess speeding would be strictly enforced, joy-riders would have to keep their eyes open if they wished to avoid trouble." He referred to the cars as "these buzz wagons." The Local and Personal column carried this short and succinct item of news—"A. Lefevre was fined $5.00 for driving without a motor vehicle licence." Poor Archie! He was one of the forerunners of a steadily and rapidly expanding multitude of citizens of high and low degree, who would be contributing increasingly over the years, to the city's coffers!

VICTORIA (CP) — James A. Douglas, grandson of Sir James Douglas who founded Victoria, says he will be unable to attend the city's centennial celebrations this summer due to ill health. Mr. Douglas, 83, lives in Sussex, England.

NEEDS FIXING

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 26-year-old city hall is in bad shape a firm of architects reported to city council. They said an annex must eventually be built, and recommended immediate renovations for the 11-story structure.

SEEKS VISITORS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jim Hughes, an official of the Greater Vancouver visitors' and convention bureau, is making a six-week tour of Canada and the United States in a bid to get for this area a larger share of the conventions held annually in North America. There were 85 such gatherings here last year.

BEEP-BEEP

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — One of its passengers was a real help to the Wolfe Island passenger - automobile ferry. The vessel, which is not equipped with radar, had a motorist on board blow his car horn to guide it safely to shore during thick fog. A motorist on the dock answered the blasts.

TODAY IN HISTORY

June 2, 1962 . . .

Canadians suffered heavy casualties 46 years ago today—in 1916—in the bloody First World War Battle of Sanctuary Wood. Forced to withdraw under the fire of German guns, the Canadian Corps threw back the enemy 10 days later in bitter hand-to-hand fighting that preceded the Battle of the Somme.

1615 — The first missionaries to Canada, the Recollets, arrived at Quebec.

1953 — Elizabeth II was crowned in Westminster Abbey.

BIBLE BRIEF

And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein.—Isaiah 35:8.

The King's Highway is a Safe Way, it is a Way accessible to the humble, and it is a restricted Way, wide enough only to accommodate the pure in heart.

ENJOYING THE K.A.E.S. MEMBERSHIP TEA

INSTALLATION OF ORDER OF THE ROYAL PURPLE

Summerville Farm, the lovely lakeside home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Smith, was the scene of a most delightful Membership Tea on Wednesday afternoon sponsored by the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society. Lovely arrangements of spring flowers decorated the house and the patio tables and Mrs. Smith, president of the Society, presided at the tea.

table during the afternoon were Mrs. Muriel Foulks, Miss H. M. Duke, Mrs. R. Chapin, Mrs. J. F. Hampson, and Mrs. Harry Perkins. Serving were Mrs. T. Pickering, Mrs. Charles Bruce, Mrs. H. M. Trueman, Miss Mary Bull, Mrs. W. R. Coleman, Mrs. N. Lindsey, Mrs. N. Dalrymple, Mrs. W. J. O'Donnell, Mrs. Harold Lamoureaux and Mrs. E. M. Pierce. Mr. LeRoy Jen-son and Mr. J. Vanderwood did a thriving business selling new memberships to the society at the two doors, and special guest for the occasion was the well known artist Vaughan Graham (Mrs. A. J. Mann) of Ojama whose paintings have been hung in the Kelowna Branch of the Bank of Montreal this winter. Mrs. Mann, a landscape artist who works mainly in oils, is particularly interested in the Rocky Mountain area, the Canadian Prairies and the Okanagan Valley. She has a current showing of prints on exhibit in the Summerland Library and will have an exhibit of her paintings hung in the Kelowna Library early in July. Guests enjoyed the lovely sunny afternoon on the long glassed in patio on the lakeside side of Mrs. Smith's home.

An impressive Installation Ceremony was held for Kelowna Lodge No. 56 Order of the Royal Purple on Tuesday, May 29, at 8 p.m. in the Elks Home on Leon Ave. Several guests were present from Penticton.

The executive for the 1962-63 term comprises: Honored royal lady, Marion Andrusko; associate royal lady, Clem Miller; loyal lady, Mary Knoth; lecturer, Helen Meunier; Margaret Mairs; secretary, Sena Crossen; treasurer, Helen Dawson; chaplain, Gladys Retzlaff; conductress, Ida Heinzman; historian, Doris Hoy; inner guard, Alleen Muckle; outer guard, Irene Peterson Jr.; pianist, Pauline Senger; third year trustee, Irene Peterson Sr.; second year trustee, Patricia Bassett; first year trustee, Marjorie Calvert.

The installing officers were ably assisted by the Drill Team, which included Ladies Alta Sigfusson, Helen Meunier, Florence Bouchard, Rose Gustafson, Eileen Webb, Theresa McKinley, Marjorie Ollerich, Wanda Campbell, Marlene Hutton, Jean Switzer.

National Council of Women Will Hold Annual Meeting

The 69th Annual Meeting of The National Council of Women of Canada is to be held at Dalhousie University, Halifax, June 11-15 this year.

A large representation from the Federated Associations will attend being delegates from the 57 Local Councils, the seven Provincial Councils and the 21 Nationally Organized Societies. These delegates represent the three-quarter of a million members of The National Council of Women.

In addition to routine business and reports, the agenda includes reports from National Council of Women representatives on Government Boards and National Associations as well as a report from the President, Mrs. Saul Hayes, on the International Council of Women executive meeting held recently in Rome which she attended.

During the meeting, 21 resolutions relating to a wide field of public issues, will be presented for debate and action. Among these, there are resolutions dealing with a request that the Income Tax Act be amended to provide that a spouse receiving remuneration for actual service be able to report this as a separate and taxable income deductible from the taxable income of the employer spouse; a request for immigration for refugees and stateless persons on humanitarian grounds; a plea that local and Provincial Councils encourage the availability to every Canadian of the opportunity to become bilingual; the request to establish through the United Nations an effective system of checks and controls with respect to the testing of nuclear weapons as will ensure that the health and the viability of the present and future generations will not be surrendered to the vagaries of chance and hazard.

Election of officers and chairman of National Standing Committees will be announced. The Premier of the Province of Nova Scotia will be host at a dinner given for The National Council of Women whose delegates will also be guests at a luncheon given by the Mayor and City of Halifax.

The guest speaker at the banquet on June 14 will be Prof. Wm. Y. Smith of the Department of Economics, University of New Brunswick, who is president of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council.

Kelowna delegate to the meeting will be Mrs. C. R. Downing.

all those who contributed to the success of the occasion.

Westbank Primrose Club Holds International Tea

At the delightful International Tea sponsored by the Primrose Club in the Westbank Community Hall on Wednesday afternoon, tea tables representing different countries formed a colorful and attractive setting.

Countries represented included England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canada, the Orient and others, and the winners of the competition were chosen by three visiting Kelowna members of the Primrose Club, Mrs. T. C. McLaughlin, the president, Mrs. D. A. Hindle and her guest Mrs. Patricia Nunnally of England.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. A. F. Johnson, whose table was one of two representing Scotland and to Mrs. C. H. R. Dain for her French motif complete with Eiffel Tower.

Mr. David Pugh M.P. was guest speaker at the very successful tea.

WESTBANK NOTES

Arriving home Wednesday following a motor trip that took them to the World's Fair at Seattle and other Washington points, then to Vancouver, were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bashin.

At Stevenson, Wash., they were guests of Mr. Bashin's aunt, Mrs. Phil Brown, and from there proceeded to Seattle, returning home via Vancouver.

George Veulett flew home from Windsor, Ont., last night, following a holiday spent there with a fellow-student from UBC.

Moving Thursday into the home and property purchased from Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Potter are Mr. and Mrs. P. Gutenberg, of Kelowna.

FAREWELL PARTY

Mrs. Emerson Vaughan, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Hewlett, entertained friends of Mrs. W. R. Potter at the former's home Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being a farewell party for the guest of honor, who, with Mr. Potter and daughter Lois, are leaving the district after a residence here of several years.

During the afternoon Mrs. Potter was presented with a Coalport cup and saucer and sterling coffee spoon, and, expressing her pleasure, as well as surprise, the guest of honor voiced her pleasure for the tribute thus paid.

Guests included Mrs. Allan Elksland, Lakeview Heights, and from Westbank: Mrs. Paul Brown, Mrs. Herbert Kramer, Mrs. W. J. Hewlett, Mrs. Clarence Fenton, Mrs. Vaughan Sr., and Miss Anna Vaughan, Mrs. Fred Griffin Sr., Mrs. H. O. Paynter, Mrs. Dick Rolke, Miss Jean Brown, Miss Edwina Paynter and Miss Freda Webber.

Until their daughter completes her school term at George

Pringle High School, Mr. and Mrs. Potter will make their home in their trailer at Deon Creek, after which they will travel during the holidays before returning to Saskatoon, where they will stay for a time.

ANN LANDERS

Not a Dime But Happy!

Dear Ann Landers: From time is coming up so please settle something for a bunch of teenagers who can't agree on a very important matter.

When a guy has a car and invites a buddy or two to double or triple date who gets picked up first and who gets taken home first? This bugs the girls, especially, because nobody wants to be taken home first. They consider it some sort of insult.

You can't imagine how much trouble we've been having over this problem. Please print in your column exactly how it should be done. We will accept your word as law.—TOOTH AND TOENAIL.

Dear Toenail: When all the kids live in the same part of town, it's simple. When they are scattered it can become a problem.

It's sensible to pick up and drop off kids in a logical manner—which means cutting down on mileage wherever possible.

One rule must be observed, however, regardless of distance. Every fellow must pick up and drop off his own date home.

Roughly it goes like this: The fellows are picked up first, then the driver's date, then the next closest gal, then the third gal. On taking kids home: The gal who lives the furthest from the scene of the prom gets dropped first, next her date, then the second gal and next her date.

The driver drops off his date last. This is one of the rewards for having wheels.

Dear Ann: I just read the letter from "Dred." She was well-versed compared with me. You said her husband should give her a hand by bathing the kids, helping with the dishes, etc. Yeah? Did you ever try to get a lazy bum off his back porch and loose from a can of beer?

I've been married 19 years to the same type and when I look back at how foolish I was I could kick myself. For a stretch of several years, I started my day at 3:00 a.m.—took my husband to work, came home, woke up, fed and dressed two children and drove them to the baby-sitters. I had to be at my job by 7:30 a.m.

I finished work at noon. My beloved was off at 2:00 p.m. He'd come home and get the car, go off to a bar and that's where HIS paycheck went. I had every Sunday off, to "fiddle around," as he called it. I washed, ironed, baked, did the yard work and tried to pay some attention to the children.

After too many years of being a dumbbell, I solved my problem by quitting my job. When my husband knew he no longer had a crutch to lean on he learned to walk by himself. We don't have a spare dime now, but who cares? I feel like—A NEW PERSON.

Dear Ann Landers: I work in an office with approximately 30 girls. One of the girls is getting married soon. The bride-to-be sent one wedding invitation which was addressed to "ALL THE GIRLS IN THE OFFICE." The invitation was posted on the bulletin board.

Much has been said around the office as to whether or not this was in good taste. We divided into three camps: Those who think it was a new low in vulgarity, those who feel it was perfectly all right, and those who are undecided.

We all want to know what you think.—SALLY.

Dear Sally: A mass invitation to a wedding is an invitation to all. In my opinion it's in the same category with that tired, empty phrase, "Why don't you come over to see us sometime?"

Each guest goes to a wedding as an individual. Therefore each guest should be accorded the courtesy of a separate invitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Weeks returned last week from a two and a half month trip to the Orient. Sailing on the Motor Vessel "Ocean Mail" of the American Mail Line, they visited Japan, South Korea, Okinawa, Hong Kong, Saigon and the Philippines.

Arriving this weekend to visit the Rt. Reverend W. R. Coleman and Mrs. Coleman for a few days is Dr. Keith Laidler, head of the Chemistry Department of the University of Ottawa.

Mrs. E. J. James of Winnipeg is leaving today after a week's visit to Kelowna, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gore, Poplar Point.

Western United States Fruit Shippers, who arrived in Kelowna Thursday for the Fruit Shippers' Convention, were entertained at dinner by the local Shippers on Thursday evening at the Capri Motor Inn. On Friday morning a coffee was held in honor of the visiting wives, and Mrs. R. P. Walrod received the guests at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club.

Newcomers to Kelowna are Mr. and Mrs. Derek Arnold from Duncan, Vancouver Island, who are planning to make their home here.

Students Find it Tough Securing Summer Work

By JIM BILLINGSLEY (Courier Vernon Bureau)

VERNON — The once easy task of securing summer employment is over. Ask any student.

"I had to 'work' this year to get a job," said a high school co-ed recently.

This situation is probably due to the high unemployment rate in British Columbia and higher qualifications placed on the applicant by employers. University students particularly suffer in the later regard as big business and seeking summer services of pre-grads, demand they know as much or more than the permanent staffer in the rank and file of the office.

The summer worker no longer competes for employment with casuals. In the larger cities thousands of people queue for jobs, many of whom have been unemployed every winter and earnestly seek permanent employment.

In Vernon, students fare better than most B.C. under grads looking for work.

UNLIKE COAST CITIES Here we have drive-in restaurants, drive-in theatres and motels which, unlike Vancouver and Victoria, operate during the summer months only. And of course we have the fruit industry which employs many casual workers in the orchards. These jobs were once tailored to the student.

Said one Vernon high school student recently: "Two weeks before I quit school for the summer I tried to get a job in a local cafe, where I had worked for the past two summers, waiting tables. When I applied this year I was told there were 20 on the waiting list, many with experience."

Unemployment insurance officials here say they have placed a large number of students in jobs for July and August without too much difficulty. However, officials also confirm university students were the toughest to place unless they were prepared to "do anything."

"As soon as jobs became available," said one UIC member, "we not only had Vernon school students applying, but unemployed persons from all over British Columbia. These were not students but men wanting work . . . any kind of work."

Most employers are sure that the trend of students picking jobs at whim for two months a year is past.

"We don't discourage the student," said one Barnard Avenue store owner. "On the contrary we encourage local teen agers to apply. But if their qualifications are so far below an older person wanting work we must appraise the two for our own good."

Though UIC officials will not venture a look at the situation this year, they say inclination of employers lean toward the experienced worker not the student.

Jim Billingsley's

VERNON VIEWPOINTS

ALL POLITICAL PARTIES are wooing the Indians for their vote June 18 but none is making a more concentrated effort in this area than the Conservatives.

Head Of The Lake band who met Prime Minister Diefenbaker this week, sat through his speech in reserved seats were impressed. More than one indicated their vote goes to the local Conservative candidate and seem elated that for the first time in history, reserve Indians have been given the right to vote federally.

The PM screamed about equality for all Canadians and directed his remarks, naturally, to beaded and buckskinned braves and squaws in front of him. The vote is a step in the right direction, but a better move would be to free the Indians completely by doing away with reserves.

Who would holler the loudest if this was done? The Indians themselves of course. Actually they want it both ways. They want every privilege of the white man but few of the responsibilities. They have always wanted the vote but in the past this would have barred them from receiving treaty money. It is, in fact, a nice pension the white man doesn't enjoy.

By all means let's have equality in this country, complete equality . . . but whatever party suggested it would lose the Indian vote.

THE PM GAVE MAYOR COUSINS and former Mayor Becker a nice pat on the back when he was here this week.

Even though Mayor Cousins is admittedly not a Conservative, as Chief Magistrate of the city he said it was his duty to meet Mr. Diefenbaker. Penetration should take note. Mayor Maurice Finnerty, a staunch Liberal, has refused to meet any political big-wig in his official capacity.

FRANK BECKER is an old buddy of John, and the chief didn't forget to let Vernon know.

WONDER WHY THEY CALL 'em hamburgers? A sign in a local eatery proclaims: "Our hamburgers contain only the best beef."

SOME STORES OPEN Monday for the first time in a long while in our town. Time will tell whether it pays or not.

BY THE WAY, if police here should stop you while driving and ask you to get out of the car . . . better do it. At the coast, two men refused such a request by police and to prove their point locked themselves in. Following one tow job to the pokey, the men were forced out of the car, charged and pleaded guilty to obstructing police.

POSITIVE THINKING: Overheard yesterday at the Vernon Art Exhibition in Polson Park: One female white saddle oxfords to a ditto viewing an object d'art: "I don't know what it is, but I think the city should buy it."

HEADLINE OF THE WEEK: (Not in the Courier): "Almost 25 Babies Baptized at Trinity Church."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Most of those who want to write, can't—and most of those who can, would rather drink.

B.C. Elks To Consider 1963 Vernon Conference

VERNON — When the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks assembles in 3-day session today in Victoria, the 34th annual conference of the B.C. Elks Association will consider an invitation by Mayor E. Bruce Cousins—on behalf of the City of Vernon—to hold its 1963 conference in Vernon.

Planning to attend this week's session from Vernon are: Vince Ingram, James Lingles, Charles Shaw and Stan Kennell; as well as district deputy George Henry in his official capacity. Joe Dean and others from Vernon may also attend.

The Vernon Elks lodge will again sponsor the children's Flag Day on July 1, with the usual parade, sports races and other entertainment in Polson Park, with free "treats" for all youngsters.

To start on July 23 for four days will be the B.P.O. Elks 50th anniversary grand lodge convention, in Calgary. Although the Vernon lodge, may only send one delegate, a number of its members will attend.

PICNIC SET

A picnic will be held at the Hurlburt Youth Camp on Sunday, June 3, commencing at 3 p.m. for the couples club, and the evening fellowship will meet at 7 p.m. at the camp. Movies and colored slides of India will be shown. Anyone wishing transportation may phone Linden 2-3159 or Linden 2-4172.

MEETING

The Christian Education meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Sunday school room, Trinity United Church. This will be the final meeting until the fall season and all representatives are asked to be present.

SPECIAL SESSION

Special session meeting will be held Thursday, June 7, at 8 p.m. in the board room of the VERNON (Staff) — Labor Minister Michael Starr lashed out at the New Democratic Party here Friday night and said living under them would be comparable to living in the Soviet Union.

Mr. Starr said an NDP claim for full employment was "indeed possible" but he said "you would have to get a permit from Mr. Douglas to change jobs, and the regimentation would be similar to that experienced in Russia today."

The labor minister was speaking to about 150 Canadian Ukrainians here and spoke for more than 15 minutes in Ukrainian.

In English he said the unemployment situation was not as serious as the opposition would like to make out. "In fact through the efforts of winter works and the Conservative Government, employment has risen in proportion to the increase in population as never in the history of the Liberal administration," he said.

NDP FAILING

Again criticizing the NDP he said that the party was "failing fast." "It is not possible for them to obtain necessary funds from Canadian forces and now must turn to the United States for money."

"Is this to be a party of U.S. trade unions?" he asked a cheering crowd. "Their latest call for funds was to Atlantic City garment workers . . . now what kind of a political party is this?"

He lauded the Diefenbaker government and said "when re-elected" would push for portable pensions and more grants for technical schools.

Mr. Starr said all workers should be allowed to carry their pensions from one job to another, and more technical training was necessary to ensure fuller employment.

Mr. Starr shared the hall with portraits of Russian poets Shervcheko and Ukrainians, and Ukrainian military leader Simon Pitura beaming down but sandwiched between double life sized posters of Canadian Leader John Diefenbaker. On one wall was a small picture of the Queen.

Stuart Fleming, Okanagan-Revelstoke candidate, said before introducing Mr. Starr that apple growers in the Okanagan would receive the highest returns on their products for "many years". He attributed the increase to the revaluation of the Canadian dollar, and said it would answer all critics of the 92½ cent dollar.

FLEMING FACTS

Trends in the economy and indications of development to be anticipated under sound Conservative policies can be derived from statistics produced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Total employment in Canada in 1961 compared with 1956 showed an increase in jobs of 452,000 with 6,155,000 employed in November of the last year as against 5,703,000 in November, 1956.

The gross national product rose from $30.8 billion in 1956 to $37.5 billion in 1961, an increase of $6.8 billion or 22%. Exports in 1961 totalled $4.8 billion. In 1961 the total was $5.7 billion, an increase of $900 million or 19%. By the same comparison, imports rose $200 million, or 3.5%.

Total personal income showed a percentage increase of 30% with the total in 1956 at $21.9 billion and in 1961 at $28.7 billion.

During the same period annual labour income rose from $14.9 billion to $19.5 billion. A dollar increase of $4.6 billion and a percentage increase of 30%.

The comparison also shows that corporate profits rose 22% to $3.5 billion while the industrial production index rose by 24 points, or 15%.

In 1956 consumer spending totalled $18.8 billion while in 1961 the total was $24.6 billion. This represents a 30% increase of $5.8 billion.

It is noteworthy that personal savings also increased by 30%. In 1956 the total was $1.3 billion and in 1961 had reached $1.7 billion, an increase of $400 million.

All economic indicators point to a steadily rising economy during 1962.

Prince Philip Hustles Through Seattle Fair

SEATTLE (CP) — Prince Philip continues his Seattle visit today with a tour of the University of Washington and an aircraft plant, in the wake of a fast-paced visit to the world's fair in which he set crowds cheering and had the fair president exhausted.

"I know one thing about him," said Joseph E. Gandy, Century 21 president, after escorting the prince for several hours. "When he wants to go somewhere, he damned well goes there."

That was the tone of the Duke of Edinburgh's four-hour visit to the world's fair grounds during which he frequently departed from the planned schedule to the chagrin of reporters, photographers and policemen.

Refreshed after a four-day rest at an interior British Columbia ranch retreat, the prince landed his personal aircraft at Boeing Airfield where 350 persons met him.

Throughout a day that included the whirlwind tour of the fair, a cruise on Lake Washington and Puget Sound and a formal black-tie dinner that continued until after midnight, he appeared fresh and relaxed.

Promotions Named For Cadets

VERNON — Promotions were announced by B.C. Dragons Cadet Corps in Vernon this week.

Promoted were: Sgt. Bob Hodgson; Corporals Stanley Blinleck and Douglas Mason; Lance Corporals, Steve Blackwood, Gordon Clarke and Robert Nelson.

The Cadet Corps' final inspection will take place on June 11, Vernon parade square. The regiments commanding officer, Lt. Col. Alan Moss will be inspecting officer.

extraordinary reason to say something to you. I can't think why. You're much better to go and see the exhibits yourselves. I hope you enjoy them as much as I did. And a very good afternoon to you all."

At a formal dinner staged by the English-speaking Union, he told the 600 guests:

"Worship at the altar of progress is an increasingly popular manifestation but it should not blind people to the need to keep progress in all its forms under control. In particular, I believe that we should concern ourselves that progress does not displace nature indiscriminately."

The prince, coming to Seattle as a side trip during his visit to Canada for his Second Commonwealth Study Conference, piloted his Heron aircraft into Boeing Airfield a half hour before noon.

He and his party flew directly from Kamloops, B.C., near where they had spent the last four days fishing, riding and relaxing.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF LOVE
John, Christ's "beloved disciple" who wrote the fourth Gospel and the book of Revelations, also wrote three letters which are preserved—a general one, one to an "elect lady," and her children, and one to Gaius, a good Christian layman.

John's greatest message, the message "which you have heard from the beginning," is "that we should love one another." The world's first brothers, he reminds us, came to tragedy because the jealous Cain lacked love.—1 John 3:11-12.

We must love in deed, not word, write John. To love is also to follow God's commandments. The deceivers of the world are those who "will not acknowledge the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh," he writes.—1 John 3:18; II John 6-7.

To Gaius he writes commending him for his evidence of brotherly love and hospitality toward the Ephesian evangelists he had sent to Gaius' church. Others, jealous, had turned them away.—III John 1-8.

Golden Text: I John 3-18.

She Sings, Plays Piano But Has Bible in Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—A pretty girl, a song and a call to Christ. That's the combination that has made Pattie Thomas of Tulsa, Okla., one of the fanciest figures on the U.S. evangelistic circuit today.

The 21-year-old miss, dark-haired, dark-eyed and full of verve, might be taken for a showgirl when she steps out on the stage. She plays the piano.

MINISTER SAYS

Some Fighting In Successful Marriages

"In most successful marriages there are quite a few arguments and even some good fights," the Rev. Dr. Earl Lautenslager of Sudbury, minister of St. Andrew's United Church and president of Huntington University, writes in the current issue of The United Church Observer.

"In the marriages where there are not any good fights, one of the couple becomes a tyrant and the other becomes a mouse," writes Dr. Lautenslager in the first of two articles on The Marriage Partnership.

"You must learn to be equal partners in marriage and yet maintain and give a certain freedom and independence," he advises. Dr. Lautenslager has been nominated for the moderatorship of The United Church of Canada. He formerly served in Toronto.

Dr. Lautenslager advises young people getting married not to expect the impossible. "You are not marrying a god but a man," he counsels. "When you are in love you are likely to over-rate his stature, and if you do so, he is to be pitied because he is expected to be something which it is impossible for any man to be."

The minister suggests that young married couples should have babies early in their married life. In fact, he writes: "No one has any right to be married unless he or she desires offspring from the union." He makes an exception for disabled people and older people.

Declaring that "your religion is your conviction at its deepest point," the Sudbury minister asserts that agreement in religion is essential to a happy married life. "Find agreement here or break off your engagement," he advises.

United Church Plans Tour Of Holy Land

Conducted tours to far-away places under church auspices are growing in popularity.

The second United Church Observer Holy Land Tour to the Middle East will leave Canada on July 7 via Scandinavian Airlines System for a 26-day journey including Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Greece and Italy. A party of 45 is being organized now.

They will visit historic Christian landmarks. Conducting the tour will be the Rev. Kenneth Bagnell of the Observer staff, and Mrs. Bagnell.

Last year's Holy Land tour, under The Observer auspices was the first Canadian tour of its kind. Members of the party came from all parts of Canada and there were 59 in the group.

In the past three years The Observer has also sponsored three tours to the Caribbean where The United Church has missionaries.

Other tours being organized for United Church people this year include a July tour to Japan, Korea and Hong Kong and a similar tour in October to be conducted by Ernest L. Homebrew, managing editor of The Observer.

A party of 30 is being organized for the Orient tour, leaving via C.P.A. from Vancouver on October 6. They will see many new work, historic sites and tourist attractions in the Far East.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Billy Graham Longs For Home Life

CHICAGO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham, in Chicago for a 19-day crusade for Christ, says he is looking forward to the day when he can return to Christian education work in a small college.

"I don't know when the last crusade will come, but I do know these years of the revival have taken a great physical price," Graham said Thursday. "I don't seem to have the reserve, the strength that I used to have."

The 43-year-old evangelist added, "I'm tired of travelling and I'd like to be home with my family."

Beyond this, my heart is centred upon Christian education work, and that's why a small college is so appealing to me."

Graham was president of small northwestern college in Minneapolis from 1947 to 1952.

HELPED MANY

VANCOUVER (CP)—For years a slogan known to workmen throughout British Columbia was: "In case of accident call Frank Green." Now Mr. Green has retired after 18 years with the workmen's compensation board. He organized a network of private aircraft and the RCAF to bring injured men quickly to hospital.

"THE DEAD TOO, SHALL LIVE"

Lonely, gnarled, and neglected, but a thing of beauty, isn't it?

We know that trees are functional, that is, they hold the soil, the good earth, the rain. But more than that, each tree, in loneliness or forest, sings out the praises of its Creator, God.

Much more so, does man reflect the glory and image of God. He too then, must sing out the praise and honor to God, his Creator. There is a place for that worship and honor; it is your church. Whether lonely, solitary, or in crowds, He awaits you... to hear and to answer.

Rutland Redcaps Grab Big Win Over Lumby

Lady Luck dealt the cards for the Rutland Redcaps Thursday night when they came through with a 3-2 extra inning victory over the Lumby Loggers in a regular scheduled SOKM League game.

Ken Hokazono went the route for the Rutland nine allowing only five hits while Charest held the Redcaps to a lone single in seven innings until he was relieved by Dickson in the eighth.

Walks and errors were the Loggers' undoing. Rocky Wostrowski opened the Rutland scoring in the second inning on a walk, and coming all the way home when the Lumby catcher threw the ball into centre field to cut off the steal.

All Lumby scoring came in the fourth inning. Charest singled, Dickson drew a walk and with two out, a hit to centre scored Charest for the only earned run of the game.

As a result of the win the Redcaps are back in second place, half a game ahead of Lumby. These same two teams meet again in Rutland Thursday, June 7.

Line score: R H E
Rutland 010 000 11-3 1 2
Lumby 000 200 00-2 5 4

Batteries: Rutland, Hokazono and Bullock; Lumby, Charest, Dickson and Dickson, Charest.

DON DRYSDALE

Plenty Of Ball Action Slated For Weekend

Plenty of baseball action is on tap at Elks' Stadium this weekend with both the Royal Anne Juniors and the Kelowna Labatts seeing action.

Kelowna Labatts will play host to the U.S.A.F. team from Fairchild Air Base in Spokane. These same two teams split their two exhibition games played last weekend in Spokane.

Bud Inglesby will be the starting pitcher for the locals in Saturday night's game starting at 8 o'clock. Sunday's game will kick off at 1 p.m. with Les Schaefer handling the mound duties in the second game.

Immediately following Sunday's game at 3:15 p.m. the Royal Anne Juniors will play host to the Kereemos Juniors in a regular schedule Okanagan Mainline Junior Baseball game.

You can tell that it's June just by looking at the National League standings. The Giants no longer have sole possession of first place.

It's not so much that San Francisco is slipping as that Los Angeles Dodgers are off on a tear. But the result is the same as it has been for four years.

The Giants threaten to run away and hide from the rest of the league all through May. Then June starts busting out all over, and the Giants seem to fade.

The Giants won Friday night, beating the hapless New York Mets 9-6. But the rampaging Dodgers won two from Philadelphia Phillies 11-4 and 8-5.

The double victory pushed the Dodgers' winning string to 13—their longest since forsaking Brooklyn—and tied them with the Giants for first place. It was the first time since April 30 that San Francisco hadn't been in sole control of the top spot.

The streaking Cincinnati Reds stopped Chicago Cubs 5-2, Pittsburgh Pirates beat Houston Colts 8-4 for their sixth straight, and Bob Shaw and his Milwaukee mates shut out St. Louis Cardinals 7-0.

DRYSDALE HOT AGAIN

The Dodgers used a combination of speed and power to sweep to the first game victory, while Don Drysdale's pitching and hitting were the keys in the nightcap.

Seven of Los Angeles' 11 hits went for extra bases in the opener, including a home run by Junior Gilliam, two triples by Larry Burdett and a triple by Ron Fairly and doubles by John Roseboro and Maury Wills.

Edmonton (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference said today they will not put veteran Rollie Miles on the protected list, giving Calgary Stampede a chance to draft him under the league's player equalization plan.

Calgary first claimed Miles, an 11-year veteran with the Eskimos, several weeks ago under a new draft system. Edmonton disputed the claim and contended that Calgary had misinterpreted provisions of the draft.

The Calgary club has until next Wednesday to select an Edmonton player.

The Edmonton protest resulted in a meeting of the five conference club presidents in Calgary Thursday. The presidents ruled that the Stampede are entitled to draft one player from Edmonton.

GIVEN TILL MONDAY
Eskimos were given until Monday to take Miles off their list of unprotected Canadians and put him on the list of 12 who can't be touched.

Hastings (Red) McMahon, Edmonton president, said the "arbitrary rewriting of the player equalizing plan—taking place as it did half-way through the draft—is of itself an admission that the stand taken by the Edmonton team from the start has been well founded."

He said any change in the Eskimos' original list might be construed "as a weakening of our basic contention from the start, as well as an acceptance of some crumbs from the table at which we were sold down the river."

LOS ANGELES (CP-AP) — Bruce Kidd tonight runs for his second straight 3,000-metre win in the annual Compton track meet, but he likely won't find it the bowl of cherries he did last year.

Running against the University of Toronto student will be Murray Halbert, the fleet-footed New Zealander who has come within an ace of tying a world record for the event.

Although the majority of the bets will be on Halbert, some Canadian officials are privately saying Kidd, 18, will give the New Zealander a run for his money.

Judging from his most recent performance, they may be right.

Young Cleveland Boss Sees Club in First Place

Mel McGaha, who passed up pro football, quit pro basketball and then had his baseball playing days ended by a bus accident that killed four teammates, is quickly earning respect in his new career as manager of Cleveland Indians.

Short on pitching when the 1962 season began with top winner Jim Grant in the United States Army, Gary Bell still bothered by a tender arm and Jim Perry ineffective in spring training, McGaha shifted here, shuffled there and came up with a workable staff.

McGaha, at 35 the youngest manager in the league, sent Perry to the bullpen, brought him along slowly and currently has the 25-year-old right-hander in the regular rotation. Perry came up with a four-hitter Friday night for a 7-1 victory over Detroit Tigers.

McGaha turned down an offer from Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League after he was graduated from the University of Arkansas, signed on with New York Knickerbockers in the National Basketball Association, then left the pro game to devote his efforts to playing baseball.

Player Holds Slim Lead Going Into Crucial Lap

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Gary Player, South Africa's whiz of the professional golf circuit, held a one-stroke lead today as the $40,000 Memphis Open tournament entered the crucial stages.

Player warmed to his game on the back nine in Friday's second round and carded a 35-66 over the 6,501-yard, par-70 Colonial Country Club course. The round gave him a 36-hole total of 131 and a one-stroke lead over Don January, who fired a 67 Friday.

In a third-place tie at 133 were

WILLIE MAYS

It's Just Great Says Willie Mays

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'd feel the same even if I went to 4. It was great just to play in New York again."

Willie Mays had just hit his 17th home run and a single in five at bats for San Francisco Giants in his old home park, the Polo Grounds, against New York Mets. He was telling reporters how it felt to return, at 31, to the park where he broke into the majors as a kid of 20 in 1951.

"Do you think the fans felt that you still belonged to them?" a fellow asked.

"I hope they still feel that way. I know I do," said Mays with that same boyish grin he had when he left town with the Giants in 1957.

RCAF Hopes To Rack Up Record

TRENTON, Ont. (CP) — The RCAF will attempt to set an aerial record early next week.

A Yukon freighter will set off on a 5,640-mile non-stop flight from Vancouver to Trenton via the Yukon, North West Territories, Newfoundland and the Maritime provinces.

It would be the first non-stop flight across both territories and the 10 provinces.

The aircraft will leave Vancouver at 3 p.m. local time Monday, fly northeast to the Yellowknife region, fly south into Alberta, then swing east to Gan- den before turning back for Trenton.

The 132-foot, 134-passenger plane will carry 25 passengers.

ROGER MARIS

Nothing Too Good For Big Roger Maris

FARGO, N.D. (CP) — There can be no doubt this is the hometown of home run king Roger Maris.

The city has authorized erection of seven big billboards, one on each road leading into the city, to advertise the fact.

On the billboards are pictures of the New York Yankee outfielder in uniform with bat cocked. Beside the picture is the legend:

"Welcome to Fargo... Population 50,000... Home of Roger Maris The Home Run King."

That Mann Sure Can Swing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dave Mann doubled for the third time Friday night to drive in the deciding run for the Seattle Rainiers in their 4-3 Pacific Coast League victory over the Portland Beavers.

In the other games, Tacoma edged Spokane 6-5, Hawaii swamped San Diego 12-6, and Salt Lake City's game at Vancouver was postponed because of rain.

Mann's third double came in the sixth. He drove in Stew MacDonald with the winners' last run. MacDonald, winner although he was relieved in the eighth when Portland scored two runs, got on base on a triple. Mac Slider homered for Portland and clinched three runs batted in for the night.

Rookie Jose Cardenal slugged a homer in the eighth inning for Tacoma's decision over Spokane. It was the 18-year-old's second circuit blow of the season.

The winning Giants hit Spokane 13-8. Hook Leis right-hander Don Carson, who took the mound for Tacoma in the fifth, gave up only one hit the rest of the way for his second win of the week. John Werhas solo homered for Spokane in the second.

Hawaii staged a five-run fourth inning and plated four more in the seventh to roll over the visiting San Diego Padres. Dick Barone and Ray Riche led the Hawaiian attack.

REMEMBER WHEN... Eugene Ciriql of France won the world featherweight boxing crown 39 years ago tonight by knocking out Johnny Kilbane in the sixth round at New York. The class weight was 122 pounds in those days, but the limit now is 126.

W. Germans Splash About In New 'Cure-All' Craze

LARRY BRANNON

JUDGE ABRAHAM FULLER (1720-1781) of New York, N.Y., WAS SO FANATICALLY OPPOSED TO DEBTS THAT WHEN A PHYSICIAN WAS CALLED TO WRITE OUT HIS DEATH CERTIFICATE, THE DOCTOR FOUND HIS FEE IN THE DEAD MAN'S CLINCHED FIST.

MARY SIZMAN of New York, N.Y., BECAME THE MOTHER OF 7 MONKS AND 2 PRIESTS.

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — With warm weather hundreds of thousands of Germans are off to the baths — sulphur baths, salt baths, radioactive baths, mud baths, paraffin baths, cold water baths and sea water baths. They are "taking the waters" — two to four weeks of drinking, odd — flavored mineral waters, being drenched in all shapes and sizes of baths, slapped, massaged and kept on strict routines. Germany's spas have become one of the great little industries of this highly industrialized society. There are more than 200 "Kurorte."

Some take the baths at their own expense, but most take the "cure" at the expense of insurance companies and employers. "Baths are always good psychologically," says an American doctor practicing in Germany. "But I find it a great paradox that in a modern, scientific society, so many Germans are convinced they can be cured of practically anything by taking a 'cure' at a spa."

Some German doctors disagree. "I feel that the majority of baths do really have useful benefits and assist in cures," a prominent German internist said.

In any case, Germany's socialized medicine has put new life in old resorts which began going downhill after the First World War. The rich international set no longer gathers — for purely social reasons — in such resorts as Baden-Baden, Bad Homburg, Bad Nauheim and more than 100 other towns beginning with "Bad," meaning "bath."

The great elegant hotels and sanatoria have been modernized. Now most are filled with middle-class office employees, officials or workers whose doctors have recommended a "cure."

"I am convinced that many of my patients, who have adhered strictly to the regimens laid down, have benefited," a German heart specialist said. "But many people go who don't need rest and special treatment. They regard a 'cure' as great fun. They slip away from their diets to eat big meals in restaurants, go dancing or to the casinos until two in the morning and then get up at seven for their treatments."

"And I don't mention those businessmen who take the 'cure' merely to get away from their wives and have a good time with ladies also supposedly taking treatment."

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 4 2 4
Pass 4 4 Pass 4 4

Opening lead—ace of clubs. This writer believes strongly in making bidding as simple and easy as possible. It is my belief that the more bidding gadgets you use the more likely you are to run into insoluble problems and partnership misunderstandings.

Of course, there is much to be said in favor of the more commonly accepted conventions, such as the values required for a notrump bid (16 to 18 points), the Blackwood convention, (asking for aces), and so on.

But some of the other conventions, devised to govern a set of circumstances that rarely occurs, are of doubtful value and may in fact do more harm than good.

For example, take this hand where North-South were using an unusual convention. In the sequence shown, the jump to four hearts indicated shortage in hearts (a void or a singleton) and requested North to show the high card values he had in diamonds or clubs.

North couldn't oblige, lacking minor suit strength, so he bid four spades which became the contract. In a sense, the convention served its purpose, since South learned North's values were in hearts, but in the end, the convention lost some of its glitter because the defense shrewdly took advantage of the convention to beat the contract.

West led the ace and another club. Declarer took the club and washed the A-K of spades. On the second spade West discarded the ace of diamonds. South then couldn't escape going down one, since he eventually had to lose three diamond tricks.

West had diagnosed that the only real chance of defeating the contract lay in playing for declarer to be void of hearts (as indicated by the four heart bid). He had to hope that South was locked out of dummy and that his partner could win three diamond tricks.

With this in mind, he could not afford to hold on to the ace of diamonds, because he would be employed on the next trick by a diamond lead. He therefore discarded the diamond ace on the basis that declarer had 7-4-2 distribution. In this respect, he couldn't have been more right.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
Pleasure and contentment are indicated for this day—especially if you spend it sharing congenial activities with family and other loved ones. Especially favored: outdoor pursuits, community gatherings, home entertainment.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, you must be prepared for a year which may be fairly routine in most respects but, nevertheless, highly pleasant. Where business or the professions are concerned, don't expect any dramatic upturns, although you can look for some good periods—especially during July, September, November and next February.

Where home and family matters are concerned, think long and well before making decisions—especially during August and October. If others try to force you to act hastily in such matters, temporize, avoid argument by asking those to consider. You will be glad later.

September and November will be excellent for romance and travels.

A child born on this day will be ambitious, venturesome and creative.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Monday should be a stimulating day. Fine lunar influences should help you to complete long-pending projects as well as spark ideas for new ventures. In the latter connection, give thought to long-range results rather than immediate ones.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If Monday is your birthday, you may look ahead to a year of great opportunity in the furtherance of your career. New contacts should open new fields of development in July and September, but it is vital that you curb that Gemini "temperament" of yours in dealing with others, lest you antagonize the very ones who could be of the greatest assistance to you.

Asute and cautious consideration of associates, on the other hand, should bring surprising rewards; perhaps unusual recognition before year's end. Romance, family matters and social activities should prove most harmonious during the next 12 months.

A child born on this day will be charming, graceful and endowed with a magnetic personality.

Just Wanted Lots of Ice For His Birthday Present

BOMBAY (CP) — An Indian schoolboy, asked recently what he'd like for his birthday, replied simply: "Lots and lots of ice."

With temperatures soaring steadily beyond 105 degrees Fahrenheit in some northern towns it already has touched 115—the current wish of most Indians is exactly the same. "Beating the heat" is a massive operation under way all over India. Peasant and prince, student and politician, government official and trader—all are at it with a single-minded dedication, though not all manage to escape.

Canadian Surprises For African Visitor

SASKATOON (CP) — What one I saw in Winnipeg and the surprise did Canada hold for a Commonwealth citizen making his first visit to this country?

For Kwesi A. Cato, personnel manager of United Africa Company of Ghana at Accra and a member of the Second Commonwealth Study Conference now on a 25-day study tour of Canada, they were:

Traffic cloverleafs, the mobility of Canadian people, an electrically-operated railway marshalling yards and the amount of cargo trucks could haul in a single load.

Mr. Cato, 42, a father of four children, said the traffic cloverleafs "fascinated him" during the first part of the tour in Quebec and Ontario.

"I didn't even know such a thing existed as an electric marshalling yard such as the Ootacamund and Gulmarg these lofty towns, mostly in the Himalayan north of the country, now are packed with visitors.

SHUNNED BY PATRIOTS Most of the hill stations were located by the British rulers for the British who used to "move up" for the summer. During the Gandhi-led independence struggle against colonialism they were shunned.

The first thing the Nehru administration did after the British left was to stop the practice of shifting the entire New Delhi administration to Simla, the Punjab mountain town set at a height of more than 6,000 feet. Many other summer resorts also lost official patronage.

Today there is a trek back to the mountains. New Delhi and the various provincial administrations have realized that these summer shifts involving thousands of visitors are good for the economy of the backward hill people.

Though the practice of moving administrative offices to the "hill stations" has been discontinued many conferences are held at Simla, Srinagar and other cool places.

The railways are running special trains to railheads at the foot of the Himalayas. Families of government employees are given sizable concessions to help them enjoy inexpensive holidays. For instance, a two-week trip to the famed valley of Kashmir would cost a New Delhi stenographer not more than $40, including transport charges.

PROVINCES COMPETE Provincial governments such as those of Maharashtra and Madras states are competing with one another in "discovering" new summer resorts. Maharashtra claims to have established 20 "holiday camps" for middle and lower-middle class families.

Homi Talayarkhan, Maharashtra's minister for tourism, says: "This is democratic socialism in action. The day is not far off when even the poorest citizen will be able to afford a holiday in the mountains."

Till that ideal is achieved, for most Indians the mountains will be represented by the huge blocks of ice rolling forth out of ice factories. A frantic effort is under way to increase the production of ice all over the country.

The average Indian peasant may not find it within his means to journey to the pine-clad heights of Simla and Kodaikanal, but he dreams of the day when his village will have its own ice plant.

Liberals Pressed Gov't For Nuclear Warheads

COURTENAY (CP) — External Affairs Minister Green said this week the Liberal party was trying to goad the government into acceptance of nuclear warheads for Bomarc missiles.

Mr. Green told 200 persons here that Liberal attacks on the government's failure to equip the missiles with nuclear warheads are designed to lure Canada into the nuclear club.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Westward they come, following the sun.

They see the glowing billboards in Iowa. They listen in goggle-eyed rapture to expatriate easterners who claim that living in southern California is like dying and going to heaven. They read avidly about the delights of sin in San Francisco.

They flock to California in planes, trains, buses and cars—some even on foot.

They come here at the rate of slightly more than one minute, 1,500 a day, 10,000 a week, 40,000 a month and 500,000 a year—nearly enough to populate a city the size of San Francisco.

They are part of a great mass migration—a movement that began in the 19th century when they discovered gold in northern California—and could not keep it quiet.

Statisticians charting the population explosion estimate that California will surpass New York Dec. 21 as the most populous state in the union. On that date California's population will surge past 17,000,000, they predict, and will nearly double by 1980 to more than 30,000,000.

EXPECT PLENTY The newcomers know all about the Golden State, that fabled horn of plenty gleaming with unending treasures: 158,693 square miles of bustling cities, emerald-carpeted valleys, snow-laden mountains, backed desert, sea-washed coastal towns, towering forests and movie stars, millionaires and missile bases.

They're aglow with tales about jobs, sunshine, a home of your own with a view and a pool, schools, welfare cheques, romance and the good life.

They prefer to ignore certain DISOLVES FEDERATION PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (CP) — Governor-General Lord Hailes and Prime Minister Sir Grantley Adams of the West Indies Federation issued a public proclamation dissolving the 10-member federation at midnight Thursday. Weakened by the withdrawal of Jamaica and Trinidad, its two largest and wealthiest members, the original federation is to be supplanted by a grouping of the "little eight"—the smaller islands that have signified their desire to remain in the federation.

PRAIRIE BRIEFS

EXPECT BIG CROP CALGARY (CP) — W. C. McNamara, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, says the board expects a 500,000,000-bushel wheat crop this year.

Mr. McNamara said in an interview Thursday estimates now are that wheat exports for the crop year ended July 31 will exceed the 350,000,000 bushels exported in the 1960-61 crop year.

URGENT HEALTH PLAN SASKATOON (CP) — The United Church of Canada, in a report at its annual conference here Thursday night, reaffirmed its support of the "establishment of an integrated and contributory national health insurance program."

FIND NURSE BODY SASKATOON (CP) — Police said Friday a body found in a shallow grave near a river bank Thursday night has been identified as Alexandra Witwchuruk, 23-year-old Saskatoon nurse. Miss Witwchuruk was last seen May 18. The board of police commissioners offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the conviction of those responsible for the slaying.

16 ARRESTED EDMONTON (CP) — Sixteen persons were arrested and 13 homes and business premises raided Thursday night in the biggest action against bookies in Edmonton in nine years. Inspector C. W. McNeill of the morality branch headed the raids, which climax investigations started in April. Warrants for the arrest of seven more persons have been sworn out.

WILL RECEIVE AID WINNIPEG (CP) — Manitoba municipalities affected by flooding this spring will receive provincial aid, Agriculture Minister Hutton said Friday. He said privately-owned permanent buildings will be covered but not chattels or land.

DEPLORES HYPHENS MONTREAL (CP) — Canadians are "too hyphenated," Prof. Marcus Long of the University of Toronto told the Women's Canadian Club here, mentioning such terms as Franco-Canadian and Irish-Canadian.

Why take a chance on more years of Tory bungling? Published by the Liberal Party of Okanagan-Boundary.

by Elmore Philpott LIBERAL CANDIDATE Okanagan Boundary

There is only one big issue in this election: Which of the four parties can best cut down unemployment?

The Tories and NDP have washed themselves out because their own leaders have already admitted that they have no chance of winning a majority in this election.

The real choice is between Tories and Liberals. We do not need to guess which of these parties can better cope with joblessness.

When the Tories came into power in June, 1957, there were only 177,000 unemployed. The latest official Tory figures show there were 445,000 unemployed.

Right here in the Okanagan there are hundreds of youngsters who have finished school and have never yet been able to get steady jobs. There are strong men eating their hearts out in hopelessness. It is all very well for the Tory politicians to pretend that everything is just Jim Dandy. It is not so.

The new Liberal government will approach unemployment as it has never yet been approached in Canada.

For the first time in history we will really PLAN and act to combat it. The Liberals will give every possible inducement to private enterprise to get ahead. But in addition to that the Liberals will mobilize the money power of the nation for guided investment under continuous national planning.

Why take a chance on more years of Tory bungling? Published by the Liberal Party of Okanagan-Boundary.

HONG KONG (Reuters) — Chinese communists have been hit by a drought in parts of the north and torrential rain in the south, the New China news agency reported Thursday. Damage was reported in southeastern areas of Kiangsi province where up to 15 1/2 inches of rain have fallen since May 25, it said, and heavy rainfalls also caused damage in Fukien and Kwangtung provinces.

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Defence Minister Menon denied in the lower house of parliament Thursday that India has negotiated with Russia to purchase Soviet MiG-21 jet fighters. However, he said India is investigating the possibility of buying fighters "from various sources."

World Reaches New Peak In Economic Resurgence

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The world has reached a new peak in wealth during an economic surge that has further widened the gap between industrialized and underdeveloped countries, according to a United Nations report.

The 1961 statistical yearbook said industrial production rose more than four per cent in that year, bringing to 46 per cent the increase in the last seven years. Comparable figures for agriculture and commodity output, considered key indicators of economic health for non-industrialized countries, were not listed for 1961. However, a UN statistical office spokesman said the year-to-year rise in these areas was much less than in the past.

Most of the 678-page report was based on 1960 figures from 150 countries and territories. But the spokesman said several long-established basic trends increasing the gap between the have and have-not countries generally appeared to be the same last year.

Industrial Production Increases

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's index of industrial production reached a high of 184.0 in March, a gain of nearly one per cent over the revised February figure of 182.3, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today.

The manufacturing index rose .7 per cent and mining 3.1 per cent, but output of electric power and gas utilities was marginally lower during March.

The month's index figures, based on 1949 equalling 100, include certain revisions dating to January, 1959. The changes, becoming more important this year, reflect more up-to-date output per man-hour adjustment of ratios and revised seasonal adjustments.

In manufacturing, food and beverage production showed more than three-per-cent gains, with gains of one to two per cent in leather, paper and chemical products. Textiles, reflecting lower synthetic output, declined almost three per cent, with printing and publishing off one per cent.

Wood products, in line with a continuing advance in sawmills activity, gained one per cent. A decline in smelting and refining largely accounted for a four-per-cent lower output of non-ferrous metals products. Electrical apparatus and supplies of non-metallic mineral products were up by two and three per cent respectively.

FINDS PROGRESS SLOW WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Rusk said Thursday the United States is concerned about the lack of progress in disarmament negotiations, and disappointment at Russia's unwillingness to agree to initial disarmament measures. At a press conference, Rusk said the U.S. wants to see actual physical steps to bring the arms race to an end because that would begin to relieve nations of the costly armaments burden and would contribute to their permanent security.

SEERS PEARSON JOY HIMOUSKI, Que. (CP) — Senator Josée D. Quail of Quebec City said Thursday Premier Jean Lesage of Quebec strongly desires to succeed Lester Pearson as national Liberal leader. The Progressive Conservative senator said Premier Lesage's attitude toward the federal election campaign moves her right. "A Liberal defeat at Ottawa will necessitate a new convention to choose a chief," she said.
